

LUKAIJAH

Speaker, Coach, Spoken Word Artist

ARTIST BIO

Since childhood, Lukaijah has been passionate about both music and the spiritual arts. At age 9 he began to play piano and in middle school he was recognized for his gift as a poet. However, it was an ingrained belief in his family that pursuing music professionally was not a lucrative or practical pursuit. Lukaijah was influenced by this conditioning, and his path took him on a journey with his other passion. He traveled to over 30 countries and trained in multiple healing modalities and spiritual lineages.

He grew into an adept healing facilitator and began training healing practitioners and working with a growing community of students in Japan. However, after the Fukushima earthquake of 2011, Lukaijah realized he was not fully living in alignment with his true purpose and joy. Through releasing layers of conditioning, limiting beliefs, and childhood traumas, he was able to access the deeper layers of passion, creativity, and clarity within. He began to embrace and integrate his love of music and the healing arts together into an evolving body of work.

Lukaijah combines his skill-sets in the spiritual arts with writing, speaking, teaching, music and vibrational technology, all aligning with his purpose of sharing wisdom and elevating others. His piano music and vocal transmissions stream from his soul, and have been referred to as "ineffably evocative, a heart-nourishing ministry of soul-stirring grace and beauty." His hip-hop music contains conscious lyrics of wisdom and empowerment. His concerts are fun, innovative and uplifting experiences in which Lukaijah creates a uniquely potent environment for downloads and activations that are designed to empower the audience and leave them feeling refueled with inspiration, purpose, wisdom and joy.
